1. The Quai d'Orsay has finally been successful in obtaining permission from the British Foreign Office for Milan Gavrilovic, the Serb Peasant Party leader in London, to visit Paris for ten days for consultations with Dr. Vladko Macek without sacrificing his right to return to England. Gavrilovic is expected in Paris during the next ten days to discuss Yugoslav problems. The conversations will be based on earlier drafts of the Serb-Croat agreement prepared by Macek and submitted to Gavrilovic and other Serbs in London as reported several months ago. Macek hopes that Miha Ereš may also be present in Paris for these discussions. Gavrilovic may be accompanied by Slobodan Jovanovic.
2. During Gavrilovic's visit, it is expected that meetings will also be held with the Polish and Rumanian Peasant Party representatives, probably including: Mikolaj Garamfil, Grigore Gafencu, and possibly Carlos Davila, for the Rumanians; and Wincenty Lados and/or Franciszek Wilk, Mikolajczyk's London representative for the Poles. On 12 May, Wilk held a long conversation with Macek concerning the proposed joint Peasant Party appeal to the United Nations.
3. It is also reported that Macek and Baron Gyorgy Bakacs —Bacsanyi—are deeply interested in the reports of Kálmán Salata's presence in the United States Zone considering him desirable as a possible signer for the Hungarians.

(Salata had "disappeared" following the earlier conspiracy arrests in Hungary.)
